Denise just loves the country-side in the United States. She's been driving all day—her high-heels pushing on the gas pedal. The day is warm, and Denise is dressed for comfort—no wonder traffic slows down when it gets near Denise's car! Denise has been on her high-heels trip for a few weeks—she hopes to go from coast-to-coast! At every stop along the way she has met the most wonderful people—American men who love to show her the town!

Time for a rest—Denise has been driving all morning, and since she was up late doing the town last night she's a little tired. So sit back and relax—Denise has pulled off to the side of the road to give herself time to take in the scene. She's thinking of the fun-times she has had, and of the wonderful high-heels she's been able to buy every place she stops. She loves HIGH HEELS!

Believe it or not, the luscious Denise has run out of gas! She isn't used to American cars, and forgot to fill her gas tank when she started out. Nothing to do but sit back and wait for help! Surely it will be coming—someone will certainly stop when they see our damsel in distress—our fantastic French tourist in her glorious high-heels is irresistible!

"A Girl's Best

Friend"

by Martin Kane

Jerry's work had suffered during the past months. The empty canvases on and around the easel showed that this had been an unproductive season. It was all because of her As an artist the female form was nothing new to him. He had painted women in all positions, of all shapes and forms! He had a complete collection of his works to prove it. Young girls in Lights with firm pointed breasts; tired streetwalkers wearing only 6-inch high beels and lace panties trying to hold their falling breasts up. Blondes! Redheads! Thin ones! Plump ones! Soft pink smooth bodies budding into bloom, and sagging flabby bodies which showed the passage of use and time. So it was strange that this female could upset him so

He had seen her for the first time six months earlier, and today as he waited eagerly at his first Boor window he thought back to his first aight

of her

A warm surge of feeling went through him as he remembered that cold, windy January day. He had moved into his apartment at the beganning of the year, and for a few days had been very busy putting things in shape. The apartment had just one room, but a huge mirror on the cealing over the bed, and one running the length of the wall next to it made the place seem much larger, He had just finished screwing the last bolt and not into the murror, and as he stepped back to look at his hand work he saw her out of the corner of his eye, She had stopped with her dog in front of his building.

His first desire was to call out to her but he just stood erect, watching The electricity of her seemed to paralyze him She was dressed from head to toe against the bitter cold and biting wind in shiny black teather Her red hair was blowing in the wind from under a wide leather hat which had a big silver buckle right over her forehead. Her body was wrapped in a leather coat which was tightly drawn and held in place about her tiny waist by a chain belt. Despite the abundance of clothes he knew at once that she had a fantastic build. Her hips rounded gently from under the coat and they seemed to move slowly even as she stood still waiting for her huge dog to do his business. Her leather boots towered like stalks on thin high heels!

The screech of a car's brakes startled Jerry back to the present, and he became aware of a throbbing feeling. Up his legs and between his thighs he could feel his skin pulsating. His face was moist with drops of sweat and he had to pull a hundkerchief from his shirt pocket to wape it off

"Where is she? Surely she won't miss today of all days!" Jerry was speaking aloud to the empty room. He was aching for the sight of her. Today was going to be the day! He was going to meet his lovegoodess. He was going to call her from his window. He was going to invite her in. He was going to pose her and sit back to drink in the sight of her body on the bed and on the ceiling and wall where it would be reflected a all its glory by the mirrors.

Why had he waited for six months to meet her! Surely she knew he watched her as she walked her gigantic mastiff twice daily. The dog always stopped in front of his win-Jow to take advantage of the fire plug on the street directly in Jerry's view. That first day Jerry had been amazed not only by the girl's curves and bulges, but by the magnificent build of the mastiff, This powerful dog with its smooth coat of hair and massive rippling muscles was the biggest hunk of meat he had ever seen. At it raised its hind leg for relief against the hydrant there was no doubt about the male power of the four legged giant. The girl in leather smiled that day at her doggie the way he had watched her smile every time since

Her luscious his were always moistly coated with a soft jelly-like oil. White, even teeth clamped together top and bottom seemed to held her full lips open with little effort. As the mastiff satisfied his natural function he would rub his moist, black nose against her tigh. Finished he would pull violently on his heavy leather twined leash and jerk her around to go back in the direction from where they came. He could hear the click, click of her fautastic high heels as she went down the street

This ritual twice a day, month after month, caused Jerry the great est amount of pleasure and pain. The pleasure came from seeing her straining to hold the dog, legs spread apart for balance. Her leather boots with pencil-thin heels made it difficult for her to stand still when the mastiff pitted his weight against hers. The pain came for Jerry when the beast won out and lead her down the street. It was then that a feeling of exhaustion would overtake him, and he would have to lie back on his bed to regain his senses.

"Where is she? Please, please don't let me be disappointed today of all days!" Jerry was mumbline softly but he didn't feel soft! His whole body was ablaze. The pleasant, warm air of this bright June day was coming through the open window, but the sensuous early summer breezes didn't help to cool him down. "I've got to do it today," he thought. "I've got to have her between these four walls for just a look—just a touch!"

Again he thought of the girls and women who had posed for him. He had posed them lying nude, as though dead; he had put them nude upside down against a wall

Nothing in his life had hit him like this. Always he had been forward and when he saw someone he wanted he'd be hot on the trail after it! Now he found a strange exestement in watching what he wanted secretly. The picture of what he would say and do with her went through his mind, and as they built to a climax he found a feeling he had never felt before. Long, drawnout scenes filled his days and nights now The only reality was when she stopped in front of the window with the panting, licking mastiff at her side

In the past weeks he had begun to feel a burning need to contact her in person. His secret worship of her was beginning to wear him out. Now he could see no other way but to feel her near for real. He wanted to explore her! He had to satisfy his desires!

He felt like a caged animal now pacing back and forth across the room. She was more than an hour past the usual time.

He lit a cigarette and puffed nervously Within minutes it had burned down to his fingers without his realizing it. A sharp pain pierced his entire body and he dropped the batt a little too late. The skin on his middle finger was blistered and hurned. He can to the bathroom and grabbed a tube of ointment. The greasy coating brought relief and he went back to the window.

"What would she wear today?" he wondered. By now he must have seen every bit of clothing she owned. The winter wardrobe was mostly slick shiny leather, but she never dressed exactly the same. In the early spring he really got a first-rate view of her The leather outer coat was gone, and on mild days she wore no coat at all. The first time he saw her without a coat she was wearing glove tight slacks which showed every curve and crevice of her body. In the back her circle-round buttocks were divided by a seam of back leather stripping right up the center Her patent leather ankle strap shoes were at least 5-inches high

The front of her slacks was so tapered that they looked painted on' Her small waist bordered a flat stomach which lead into a soft mound below! Her blouse that day was of the thinnest material, and it was obvious that her luxurious, plush breasts were not held in by undergarments. Full and firm they billowed up under the blouse, bobbing cently while she held the dog

As he stood motionless a sudden gush of feeling swept through Jerry He stiffened and could feel his heart beating in his toes and fingertips. She was coming—he knew it! She would soon be there with that monstrous dog!

A few minutes later they were there. The girl dressed in a brief outfit for the warm June day, the dog panting and salivating as he rubbed his nose against her legs. The breeze caused her sheer skirt to blow against her body snugly. Every outline showed through. The low cut blouse exposed her satin smooth breasts as never before. Her long slim legs, covered with the sheerest of hylon, were held high in black leather shoes with long shiny silver heels.

Jerry reached the street just as the mastiff finished relieving himself. The girl was startled when he said "Hello," and the dog lunged between them.

However, Jerry had waited too long to give up now, and without any ceremony asked her to come to his apartment for a drink Her shiny lips parted with a small smile, and her sparkling white teeth shot gleams of light into Jerry's eyes as she spoke.

"Thank you very much, but my friend wouldn't let me go to a strange house. He d put up quite a howl "

The sound of her voice flowed through Jerry and increased his desire even more, "Why does your friend have to know?" he inquired

She laughed slightly and lowered her eyes toward the ground. With a teasing laugh she told him that the powerful mastiff, straining at the end of the leather leash, was her friend's "friend"

As she turned to follow the dog, Jerry followed along. When they turned the corner he knew he had to act fast. Surely she lived close by and would soon be gone,

"Take me home with your friend Let me be a friend, too!" Jerry's eyes were burning. He could stand it no longer. The months of waiting had to come to an end.

Without saying a word she turned into a house. He fo lowed. The mast.if, anxious to get home, tugged harder at the leash

Half way up the stairs she turned toward Jerry and smiled mysteri-

"I don't think you could be as good a friend to me as my exciting doggie, but come and see for yourself." There was a strange look in her eyes as she spoke

By this time Jerry's mind was going a mile a minute. The sight of her from behind on the steps had set his blood botting. The way she walked was enough to drive him usane. He would say anything now—do anything now just to be with her. She had him under a spell, and he was blind to her strange statements and actions.

Inside the apartment Jerry was struck by a huge wall covered with different kinds of leashes and dog collars. All were leather! Some were black with gleaming silver and gold rivets, some were brown, and a few were tan. The collars were mostly of heavy linked chains, but they too had a touch of smooth leather somewhere on them. Most of them were huge—all of them appeared, at a quick glance, to be males.

"How do you like my collection?"

She was bending over the mastiff as she spoke. As she gently removed his leash, Jerry saw her breasts from above. They were fuller and more the than he had imagined even in his most exciting dreams. As he tooked down between the bare, swelling pillows of flesh his legs grew weak with excitement. As he reached out to feel her she stood up. His hand wandered down the front of her body, and hot sparks shot through ham!

She turned quickly on her high heels and walked across the room to a huge sofa. Jerry followed and sat as close to her as possible

Jerry could contain himself no longer Here she was! Here he was! Here he was! Her whole body was within touching distance. She was alive and throbbing, he could feel it. She was leaning back, her legs stretched out in front of her, her slim heels digging upright into the floor below. Her hands were folded in her lap and Jerry could see them rising and failing as she breathed. Her breasts kept time with her breathing and gently moved in and out. They looked as though they were straining to break out of the low-cut blouse.

She turned toward Jerry and he could see her shiny, oil-coated lips forming a half smile. An uneasy feeling swept through Jerry, mingling with the pleasure he felt. As close as she was to him, Jerry began to feel that the girl really didn't know he existed. With a pain of fear, Jerry suddenly became aware of the huge Mastiff, His thoughts had been too involved with the girl to pay the dog much attention. Now however, Jerry could see the Mastiff very clearly. There he was, sitting across the room, licking his lips and staring straight at Jerry on the couch

The time for positive action was at hand. Jerry had to know! He had to touch the girl. As he reached to stroke her the dog growled and darted forward. In this brief second he could see the huge mastiff's eyes blazing, the muscles tensed for an artack.

Quickly the girl commanded the mastiff to, "heel"

Obeying her order, the mastiff slowed down. And then the shock came! Jerry had seen a lot in his lifetime, but this took the cake! The mastiff instead of sitting, grabbed hold of the girl's high-heels. "Heel" to the mastiff meant something different from what "heel" meant to other dogs!

The mastiff did his work thoroughly First the left shoe and then the right high-heeled beauty was pulled from her feet. Jerry wasn't about to give up. Even with the big dog so close! Jerry reached to stroke the girl's nylon-clad foot—the tight silky stocking still showed the imprint of the high, high heels. The mast ff roared and went for Jerry's hand

Jerry jumped up quickly! The dog was all over him—ripping at his shirt—lunging for his throat! Jerry gasped, "Get you d— dog off me!"

The girl had a sweet innocent smile on her face. She just reached down and put her stilletto high heels back on. Ouickly Jerry dashed for the door. As he raced down the steps he felt numb. Echoing through his mind were the words the girl had spoken to him only a half hour before. How well he remembered them. How he wondered now what they really meant!

Leather High Heel Boots and Shoes...

Fetish or Fashion?

by John Craig

For many years the subject of leather and its uses has been a source of argument among many people Not long ago leather clothes and leather high-heet boots and shoes were hard to find A woman with a passion for those skyscraper high-heed boots or slim, towering high-heel leather shoes usually had to order them specially made Leather fashions were almost impossible to find in an ordinary shop

Today things have changed. No longer does the lover of high-heeled leather boots have to search! Regular high-heel leather shoes and boots with heels as high as required are now read: y available. What has brought about the change?

Some claim that high heet leather foot adornment is a symbol of something mysterious-lurking in the mind! The picture of a beautiful woman standing, feet apart in highheel leather boots, with a whip in her hand comes to mind. Of course this is undoubtedly true in many cases. But today the picture of an average female in slithery, needle sharp heels on leather is not uncommon. Does this love of leather-and more particularly the love of highheel leather footwear, show some exotic form of craving for the woman who wears it? Does it have some special meaning for the menwho are attracted by 11?

On the other hand leather highheeled footwear has become a fash on rage Thumb through any magazine. Between its pages you'll find glamorous women standing straight and tall. Follow their shapely, sheer nylon mesh hosed legs downward and chances are you'll find high heeled leather boots or shoes on their feet. Designers for women's fashions have now made leather a must! From Paris to New York and a laround the world leather is se ing strong. No longer is it a hidden tem of desire Call it fash on f you will but is it just that? Or is it that for the first time in modern history women (and men) are admutting their love for leather in the open? On the following pages you will find evidence for both sides of the argument. The evidence cited here is on the side of proving leather a fetish only because their is so much written on the subject. However when you consider how many times a day you see leather in store windows, and on well-dressed women the other side of the argument gains strength Which is it? Fetish or Fashion Read on and decide for yourself'

LEATHER HIGH HEEL BOOTS AND SHOES AS A FETISH

A fetish signifies an object, or parts of an object, which through association or feeling exerts a charm on an individual. The impression that a person gets from an object does not have to do with anything in the appearance of the object itself

Erotic fetishism makes an idol of a person or an object, such as high heeled leather boots or shoes. This type of idol brings about strong emotions of sexual pleasure in the person

Leather shoes, in many cases, are significant as sexual fetishes. In the Middle Ages men drank from the shoes of women to prove their virilar. There is much evidence to support the fact that leather is strongly related to the sexual practices of many men and women. This is especially true when it comes to shing leather boots and shoes with high-heals!

A classic book on sexual behavior entitled Psychopathia Sexualis (1868), records case after case of leather's effect on certain people. We quote some of these cases. They apply today as they did then

CASE I. Mr M At the age of 12 began to have peculiar dreams of being tortured, whipped and kicked by men, and especially women. At the age of 14 a weakness for women's boots came over him He only worshiped those that were made out of leather By kissing them and pressing them against his body he obtained sexual excitement

CASE 2 Mr X had the following desire. He would accost some prostitute on the street and ask her to go to a shoe shop with him. There he would buy her the handsomest pair of cather high-heel shoes. She had to put them on immediately When this had taken place, she had to walk through mud and dirt in the street. Then Mr. X would take her to a hotel. On arriva, in their room he would throw himself upon her feet, feeling an extraordinary pleasure in licking the eather clean. When the shoes we also him is he would pay her and send her away.

The above cases, are all true, and show the fetish of a masochist. A masochist can only find sexual release by being hum liated and trod upon. Other cases are ascribed not to masochists, only, but to people who can only emoy sexual relations n an unorthodox way. For some psychological reason, soft leather on a woman's high beel foot can satisfy them greatly.

Another interesting case in Psychopathia Sexualis concerns a man's love of high heel leather boots in a masochistic as well as sad stic way

CASE 3 A young, powerful man aged 26 was only excited by women in leather shoes. Howas particularly interested in buxom women who wore black leather with very very highheels! The shoes without the women did not excite him. He of the great deal of pleasure from touching the leather shoes —from running his fingers up and down the slim heels!

During contact with a woman be insisted that she be elem to dressed, and above a be weappe leather bich beels. Sadistic thoughts entered the man's mind. He would take preat pleasure in thinking of the animals who were killed to provide the leather. The scenes of their deaths were very clear in his mind. In this way he satisfied his sadistic needs His masochistic desires were fulfilled by having a woman walk on him while wearing ber eather hig heeled shock. The harder she walked the more he enjoyed it!

There are also many cases of a man's desire for a woman's leather high-heel boot or shoes which show no special motives. Sadism and missocrism are not necessarily the motives in these cases

CASE 4 A minister, aged fifty used to go to houses of prosh-tution under the pretext of rentne a room. He would enter the room with a girl. After locking at her high-heeled leather boots intently he would begine woman to a low him to kiss and bute them. After removing them from her feet he would press the leather against his body. He would then begine woman to let him keep the shoes for a few days. When the few days had bassed he would, at the appointed time return them with thanks.

CASE 5 Mr S of New York was arrested for being a streetth of When he was on trial the following facts were brought out in the case.

Mr. S. at the age of thereen. had been struck over the head by a wooden beam. At the age of fourteen he began to have v olent headaches. During these head aches he was struck with an overwhe ming desire to steal a pair of high heel leather shoes from one of the women in his family. He would take one shoe at a time and hide it in some out of the way place When discovered he would lie and say he had never done it His passion for high-heel leather shoes or boots was unconquerable and he would go through the stealing routine about every three or four months. On one occasion he stole a leather shoe from one of the servants, and on another he stole his sister's shoe from her bedroom. One spring he tore the high-beel leather shoes from the feet of two ladies who were walking down the street A few months later be did the same thing while on his way to work. The young girl whose shiny high-beel shoe he had stolen ran to the police. The police found him and arrested him as a street-thief

Mr. S. declared that he hardly femembered doing the deed
He explained that at the sight of a woman's leather shoe he was struck by an urge to have it. He was releated but was attricated to his extremely nervous condition he was not sent to ad-

CASE 6. Mr Z had a fetish for women's high leather faced boots Laced boots with extremely high heels thrilled him most Upon looking at them he became more excited by the idea of a woman trodding upon him with the heels diagong into his flesh. The only thing interesting to him about a woman was her high-heeled boots? Whenever he saw a woman wearing these leather high-heel boots he would become sexually excited. He believed that the only way he could prove his virile power was to be with a woman in high-hee ed laced leather boots.

Recorded in Phychopathia Sexualis are also many cases in which the nois in a woman's high-heel shoe play an important part. Usually these nois satisfy a masochistic desire. Here are two cases to a ustate

this type of shoe fetish

CASE 7 Mr T. an American from the beginning of puberty to adult manhood was capable of being exicted only by the sig it of a woman's leather high-heel shoe Her body and naked or stockinged foot made no impression on him but the foot when covered with a high-heel shoe, or a highheel shoe alone, induced the greatest pleasure. In the case of elegant shoes, the sight of them without a woman was enough to delight him—in particular black leather, buttoning up the side and having very high heels. Kissing or putting such shoes on his feet increased his virility. His biggest enjoyment was to drive nails through the soles so they would penetrate his feet when he wa ked This caused him terrible pain, but he had real fustful feeling at the same time

When with a woman, Mr T enjoyed keeling down before the elegantly high-heeled feet of ladies and then he had them step on him If the wearer be an ugly woman, the shoes would have no affect on him. At times when he was alone with a pair of shiny high heel shoes he would imag ne a beautiful woman wearing them. His nightly dreams were of beautiful women and their shoes. He considered the exposure of ladies shoes in a store window to be immoral.

CASE 8. Mr V, aged thirty-four, reported the following facts about himself to the authors of Psycho-Pathia Sexualis. "At the age of seven I had a strong desire to finger shoes, especially the nails of a woman's high-heels. The sight and the touching and counting of the nails gave me indescrib-

At night I would dream of the shoes of my cousin and how I would null horseshoes on one of them or cut her feet off. In time the shoe-scenes would come upon me in the day. With each scene my pleasure would increase. Often I would steal the high-heel shoes from members in the house and rub them against my body for enjoyment, For a long time when I was a student, I was able to control my peculiar desires However this did not last for long and soon I would be in bed at night listening for the footsteps of high-heels on the payement. The sight of leather shoes in the windows of boot shops always swayed me with desire. I finally married. and for a while my married life took the place of my shoe fetish

Three months after my marriage I began to go wild at the thought of women's high-heeled shoes again. When the shoemaker spoke to me of nails in ladies' leather high heels or draving in the nails I would become hysterical. The reaction was still greater if I saw a girl with high-heek beset with many nails. In order for me to have sexual pleasure at this time, the only thing I had to do was cut soles out of pasteboard and fill them with nails. I also bought a pair of black leather sky--high shoes and took them home At home I would scrape the nalls on the ground and touch them to my body

To people who were troubled by shoe fetishisms in those days there were many doctors of the mind who offered cures. Today these methods would seem outdated, but they did seem to have an affect freatment for some of the cases you have read was carried out in such ways as the following

A man was told to go and buy women's high-heal leather boots. Then everyday he would hold the boots and while kissing them say

Why should I get sexually excited when kissing this boot, which is after all only a piece of ordinary ceather?" This routine hi le by lift e stripped the high heeled leather object of its fetishist e charm. The sexual excitement would disappear, and finally the boot would impress the man only as a boot

The controversy that takes place now about shoe fatish sm was evidenced in the almost century-old Psychopathia Sexualis. A famed Dr Moll objected to the explanations in the book dealing with men who had crayings for women's leather boots and shoes. He claimed that it is struncexplained why the fet shist so often prefers boots with high heels, to boots and shoes of a particular kind—buttoned or laced. To this objection, the authors state that in the first place the high-heels characterize the shoes as ferning in love and a lust for leather. In today's world most of the cases are discussed in private with a doctor. The world in general when reading of them is not particularly impressed. Highhee leather boots and shoes do not seem to cause great excitment when associated with what many consider abnormal behavior. Perhaps this is due to the fact that it is not so uncommon

LEATHER HIGH HEEL BOOTS AND SHOES AS FASHION

As stated at the beginning of this study, there will be less written about leather high-heel footwear as a fashion. This does not mean that we believe leather to be more fetish than fashion. It could be one or the other. It could be both. As we said before that's for you to decide

EPIC PUBLISHING CO., Sept. GS 1733 Broodway, New York, N.Y. whips are purchased as accessomes. Leather bottom jodhpurs, riding crops and even bull whips are popular, too. The latest fashion item is a pencil-thin cane with a thick leather handle

Look at the fabulous photographs with this article of gorgeous women wearing leather. Many of them are funcous models from New York London. Paris and Rome. As you see leather high heel boots and shoes are only part of the leather fashion story. Everything from bras to skintight slacks is now being crafted in sensuous leather these days!

According to leather fashion manufacturers practically any woman can satisfy her craving for leather without any special trouble. However, there are still many who are not satisfied, Many who have their own ideas on leather fashions. These women must order their leather "goodies" custom-made. No wonder' Recent orders included a pair of 8 inch high-heel heauties with a series of tiny straps to form an 'obey-meknot' at the vamp. Stalk-slim, the 8-inch heels were to be ebony. The entire bare back heel was to be in bright contrasting pink-dyed leather. A tight leather strap was made to encircle the foot just above the ank e bone. A clasp of leather with a gleaning wrought-tron buckle was included in the design.

Other requests come for high-heel shoes that make noises when the wearer is approaching. Heels are ordered, quite often, to tower 10, 12 and 14-inches, Wrinkle smooth and polished to perfection leather footwear is here to stay! Most fashion experts agree that women who must still order special creations will soon be able to find what they want in the shops. After all many designs do come from what these women have ordered in the past.

What will the woman who can satisfy her own peculiar tastes do when they are available anywhere? The excitement of having something special will be gone! However, you can bet that new ideas and tastes will spring up. So in the years ahead we can look forward to leather high-heel creations like we've never seen before

A few last-minute touches and Gigi will be ready for action!

When posing, it's not unusual for the girls to try on a dozen or more high heels for just one shot! This is perfection!

Introducing Gigi and Vicki-two famous high-heel models, in their London studio. Gigi is a famous high-heel photographer, too! Here we see her posing Vicki for a special shot. A lot of work goes into making a good highheel picture—Both Gigi and Vicks are very experienced and know how to get

Lights' Camera' Action' Gigi has Vicki posed, halanced on one high heel! Truly a classic shot' Wait till you see our HIGH HELL glamour girls in color on the next pages. WOW!

Gigi and Vicki came to London two years ago' They were both living in Chicago and became tamous as high heel models. Looking for new places to pose in, the girls decided on England' They had great success with the English—and Gigi decided to set-up a studio for taking pictures. Her favorite high heel model, and friend, is Vicki Their pictures appear regularly in magazines and newspapers all over Europe. Along with their gorgeous high-heel poses, the girls are first-rate body and face models, too. As you can see it's true!

Hou's this for size? High-heels have to fit just right or a great picture could be ruined!

Just before every shot the girls go over and over them to make sure they look perfect.

Part of Gigi's and Vicki's job is to look through all previous pictures they've taken or posed m! They don't like to repeat the same picture

twice. Here we see them

leaning over the files—notice how the white high-heels and black ones give such an in teresting contrast to the girls.

On or off camera Gigi and Vicki are aware that their high-heels should look great!

Under those hot, bright lights the girls always have to prehave their make-up—a touch of powder and a highlight of lipstick is very smportant!
Their high-heels always have to be in peak condition, too!
Shining and glowing highbeels add just the right spice to our two famous models.

LONDON Gigi and Vicki are still at work! It's gesting to be late afternoon—but these professional girls still look glamorous! On days when they're not in their studio, Gigi and Vicki go on various locations posing for other photographers in London. Recently a French photographer came across the Channel just to take their pictures in highheels for a very famous French magazine,

Frerything is in A I order' The sheer nylons are tightly drawn on shapely legs, the seams are straight, the heels stand proud and tall to complete the picture of Gigi and Vicki' she's the top model for a shoe manufacturer! In her job, Sabre has worn thousands and thousands of high-heels in every shape and form. Every time a new shoe comes out her boss sends her on the road to model it. A hard worker, Sabre has traveled almost a million miles by plane, ship, train and caralways to show the public the newest in high-heels. As a reward for her great work, the high-heel shoe company gave our Sabre a free vacation. She could pick wherever she wanted to go. Her first top choice was a Safari, and here she is!

In the little village where Sabre and her guide are staying for two nights the natives are intrigued by her wundrous healty. They have dubbed her their 'HIGH HEEL QU'FEN."

SABRE ON SAFARI . . . As a favor to her guide, Sabre consented to pose for informal photographs. The night before she had been honored by a big tribal celebration. She stood in the middle of a ring-tall and stately on rowering high-heels-as the natives danced around her. A huge fire roared nearby highlighting her smooth red hair. The natives were dazzled' The chief wanted her for his own, but Sabre told him she had to go home soon! However, he was happy when she agreed to pose for these photos. It seems certain that the people in this tiny village will never forget Sahre, They had never seen anyone like her before. Sabre's guide told her with a smile that the tribe would never be the same again. So high-heels have left a mark in a far off village and won the love of the peoplewe agree that Sabre is a great saleswoman for high-heels!

Sabre and her fabulous charms' She's a high heel beauty head-to-toe!

Sabre has the special knack of blending into her surroundings wherever she is. Standing, lying, reclining, or just relaxing in her high-heefs! Sabre is a natural charmer always! No wonder her fame is growing, and people on both sides of the ocean are trying to lure her with offers of other jobs. But Sabre wants to continue in her present job after her Safari

HIGH HEELS

IN THE NEW'S

HIGHHEEL

Doing the Lambert Walk Margaret Lambert, 19, flashes boots she wore to her wedding to John Bowver in Oldman. England, She switched from high heels when church path became rain-soaked.

Watch your step!

Maybe it's nothing new under the sen, but for nights the Telstar Shoe, out of London, lights up (battery-powered) when she walks.

HIGH HEELS

LOLITA MORENO-HIGH HEELS STAY-AT-HOME

Lolsta Moreno is baving so much fun at home that she decided not to take her bigh-heels on the road. We find this dark-haired beauty so enchanting that we've included her anyway. At home or on a trip, Lolsta is a star! A famous model by day, Lolita also entertains as a dancer for special events. A native of Oklahome, Lolita has some Indian blood—perhaps this helps give her that added touch of sexy beauty. As a child, Lolita was discovered by a photographer and her modeling career has climbed

From every angle Lolita has the ability to give her all to the camera, Photographers consider her a natural, and she has more work than she can handle. We were particularly bappy when Lolita made time to pose for these exclusive HIGH HEEL pictures. In addition to modeling, Lolita is also going to acting school. She hopes in the near future to be on the stage and in movies-we think Lolita can do anything-Good Luck-High-Heel stay-at-home!

Keep a sharp lookout for Lolita Moreno in the near future...

HIGH HEELS is sure you'll be seeing more and more of this exciting beauty...we think she has what it takes and we're not alone!
